

Join us:
Martin Luther King Jr.
Observance by the MSU
Medical Colleges

THERE'S STILL HOPE: ADDRESSING HEALTH DISPARITIES AND STRENGTHENING WELL-BEING IN OUR COMMUNITIES

In honor of Martin Luther King Jr. Day, the MSU Medical Colleges invite you to a talk with Shondra L. Marshall, PhD, director of the Michigan Public Health Institute's Center for Racial and Social Justice.

An MSU alumna and expert in equity and justice, Dr. Marshall focuses on advancing systemic change for historically underrepresented communities. Her work includes training future leaders and research on academic performance, cultural responsiveness, and youth empowerment.

 Thursday, January 23, 2025

Light refreshments will be served

 6:00 p.m. - 7:30 p.m.

 Conrad Hall Auditorium
943 Conrad Rd, East Lansing

An online option is available for those outside of East Lansing

RSVP AT GO.MSU.EDU/MLK-DAY-2025

